Jonesboro, Hope Clash Tops State Prep Grid Games

Undeclared Records of Both Teams at Stake Here Friday

LITTLE ROCK AT SPA

Camden Panthers to Invade Pine Bluff; Chicks at Paragould

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—For the second straight week four games with the Arkansas high school football conference headline the state's prep gridiron program next Friday. But, with the possible exception of the Jonesboro invasion of Hope, none of the embroilings will grip fan interest as have the conference struggles the past three weeks when Pine Bluff, North Little Rock and Little Rock defeated the Blytheville bubble.

The Jonesboro Hurricane and Foy Hammon's Hope Bobcats are in the all-win column of the conference standings by virtue of a single victory each. Two weeks ago the Hurricane defeated Hot Springs and the Bobcats romped over Clarksville. Last week they played outside the conference. The results of all games have been impressive but their opposition hasn't.

Ranking close to the top of the program will be the North Little Rock-Fort Smith game at the border city. The North Siders have tied two and won one in the conference. The Fort Smith Grizzlies fell before Pine Bluff's attack two weeks ago. Last week the Grizzlies dumped Okmulgee, Okla., 19-0 while the Wildcats were being held to a humiliating 7-7 tie by Forrest City.

Little Rock's Tigers, who showed all kinds of power and a not-too-firmly defense Friday in whipping Blytheville 33-21, will go to Hot Springs where the Spa Erolans have shown little, if anything that would indicate they might topple the Tigers. Hot Springs almost won its second game of the season Friday at El Dorado when it battled the oil city lads to a 5-5 tie.

The fourth conference struggle takes place at Pine Bluff when Camden makes its circuit debut against the thus-far class of the loop Zebras. The Stripped Mules galloped to a 33-0 victory over Fordyce for the third conference win last week while Camden was winning its first game of the season 25-7 over Texarkana.

Other games involving conference teams:

Blytheville at Paragould.

Russellville at Paris.

Benion at home with Bauxite.

Fayette at Malvern.

Clarksville at home with Mansfield.

Forrest City at home with Marianna.

El Dorado at Texarkana.

Arkansas vs. Texas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—Three of Arkansas' collegiate football representatives will travel far and wide this week in the share of a six-game state grid program which includes a South-west conference match here and two intra-state games.

Recuperated by a victory over the New Mexico State Teachers at Las Cruces, the Arkansas State Teachers College Bears from Conway will take to the rails again for another far-western jaunt. They will meet the Fresno State College team, their Christmas opponents last winter, at Fresno, Calif., Saturday.

The Ouachita College Tigers, also idle last week, will go to San Antonio, Texas, for a bout with the St. Mary's College team and the Arkansas State College Indians, victors over the University of Tennessee Junior College 7-6 last week, will leave their Jonesboro tepee for a trip to Carbon-dale, Ill., where they meet the Southern Illinois Normal eleven, Saturday.

The Monticello Aggies, after a one week layoff, will go to Conway Friday night for a game with Hendrix, which dropped a 14-0 to the Cape Girardeau, Mo., Teachers last Friday.

The Henderson State Teachers College Reddies of Arkadelphia, 6-0 victors of Stephen F. Austin College last week, will go to Russellville next Friday for a game with Arkansas Tech's Wonder Boys who held the Pittsburg, Kansas, Teachers to a 0-0 deadlock Friday.

The Southwest Conference game here pits the University of Arkansas Razorbacks, who dropped a 9-6 decision Saturday to Baylor University of Texas Longhorns, 13-0 victims of Oklahoma University.

Free Vaudeville at City Hall Tuesday

Public Is Invited to Free Show Beginning at 8 o'Clock

Tuesday night at 8 o'clock on the stage of the Hope municipal auditorium a free vaudeville show will be given.

A Yeger school colored chorus will sing a group of songs. This will be followed by a soft shoe tap by Mary Ann Lile and Miss Phineas Fuller, a marionette featuring "Old Colored Mac" and "Little Topsy" will appear next. Then a solo by J. Paul Thompson of Fort Smith, followed by a Gypsy ballet by Miss Phineas Fuller.

Next is a tumbling act presented by Robert Marks of Monticello; My Otto Taylor will next sing a solo. An toe waltz follows by Miss Mary Ann Lile. Marcus Varnell of midgetland will sing a solo.

A one-act play will be presented by Miss Mildred McCombs. Community singing led by Mrs. W. D. Jackson. State Music Consultant will end the evening's entertainment. This program is free and the public is cordially invited to attend.

20 Die in Crash of Belgian Plane

16 German Passengers, 4 Belgian Crewmen, Perish in Crash

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Sixteen passengers, all Germans, and a Belgian crew of four, were killed Monday when a Belgian airliner crashed near Soest, in the Ruhr valley, northwest of Germany.

Training School to Open Here Tuesday

Three-Day School for 45 South Arkansas WPA Supervisors

On Tuesday, October 11th and continuing until noon Thursday, a training school for 45 Recreation Supervisors in South Arkansas will be in progress at the 45 Recreation Supervisors at the Capital Hotel.

General topics to be discussed will be "Community Recreational Music" with Mrs. W. D. Jackson, music consultant, Little Rock, as discussion leader.

"The Amateur Dramatic Field in Recreation," by Dr. E. M. Borders, dramatic specialist, as leader. Other general topics such as "Community Co-operation, Art, Handicrafts," and other subjects pertinent to the state-wide recreation program. In attendance there will be State Supervisor of Recreation Projects Mr. J. H. Craswell, Miss Olive Sandifur, Mrs. Margaret Little and Mr. J. Paul Thompson, Supervisors of Regions 1, 33 and 4.

On Tuesday night a free program of typical recreation events will be given at the municipal auditorium and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Given Life Term on Kidnap Charge

John Couch, 23, Sentenced for Seizing Couple at St. Louis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—(AP)—John Couch, 23, was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday for kidnaping a St. Louis couple and leaving them bound near Champlin, Minn., before fleeing to a north woods hide-out.

It costs about $75 a year on the average to keep a pupil in school in the United States.

Col. Lindbergh Is Flayed by Russia in British Dispute

Charged With Belittling Soviet Air Strength, Aiding Nazis

MOSCOW, Russia.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's leading airman Monday solemnly denounced Col. Charles A. Lindbergh in a statement accusing him of spreading lies about the Soviet air strength to give Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain arguments for the surrender of Czechoslovakia.

(The Soviet statement apparently arose from unverified reports in two London newspapers that Lindbergh had been critical of the Soviet air force.)

(Lindbergh has made no comment on the reports. He and Mrs. Lindbergh took off in their plane from Le Bourget airport, France, Monday, and airport officials said they were bound for Berlin.)

(His visit to Russia figured in a guarded statement during the House of Commons debate last Thursday. Ellen Wilkinson, Laborite, said that "influential people" had told Chancellor Hitler that in no circumstances would Britain fight for Czechoslovakia, and added that "it is a very serious thing that when a very prominent American airman" was being launched by these people "they assured him it was impossible for this country to do anything" because Germany's air force was "better than the Russia, British and French combined.")

The Moscow statement was signed by 11 Soviet airmen, including the civil aviation chief, Vasily Molokoff.

Published in the Communist party newspaper Pravda, the statement called Lindbergh a "stupid liar, a lucky, and a flatterer of the German Fascists."

Two Negro Trials Heard on Monday

$600 Judgment for Personal Injuries in Emmet Shooting

Two negro trials had been completed and a third one was in progress as Hempstead circuit court recessed at noon Monday at Hope city hall.

The trials brought out a large crowd of negro spectators who packed the courtroom and overflowed into the main courtrooms.

The results:

John Lee Brown, negro youth, was convicted by a jury on a charge of stealing a bicycle owned by Mrs. Charles West and was sentenced to a year in prison.

Malas Hawkins, negro, was convicted by a jury and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on a charge of burglary and grand larceny.

Carlton Todd, negro, entered a plea of guilty to burglary and grand larceny. He had not been formally sentenced at noon.

Testimony was being heard in the case of Dierks Holt, negro, charged with carnal abuse, as court recessed at noon. Eliza Holt, negro girl, appeared on the stand as the alleged victim and testified as the star witness for the state.

Just what cases were to be heard during the afternoon was undetermined at noon.

A jury last Friday returned a verdict awarding Eugene Blackwood, white youth of Emmet, $600 for personal injuries in a civil case against A. M. Brooks of near Emmet.

The Blackwood youth was shot as he and several companions were hunting frogs at a pond near Emmet.

Brooks faces a criminal charge in connection with the case and is expected to go to trial later on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Municipal court was not in session Monday, all cases being set for Monday of next week.

Two of November Ballot Titles Are Reviewed by Court

Refunding Measure, Rottenberry Pension Act Under Attack

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Opposing counsel in the suit attacking the ballot title of proposed constitutional amendment No. 28, designed to refund the state's 143-million-dollar bond debt, told the Arkansas Supreme Court Monday that the measure would prevent reduction of either the state gasoline or automobile taxes until the entire is paid.

The court listened to arguments on this and on another suit attacking the proposed Rottenberry old age pension act's initiated petition until after noon, then took both under submission for probable ruling next Monday.

Reject Mooney Appeal

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The United States Supreme Court refused Monday to review Thomas J. Mooney's latest appeal for release from San Quentin penitentiary where he is serving a life sentence for complicity in the 1916 Preparedness day parade bombing in San Francisco.

Church Attacked

VIENNA, Austria.—(AP)—A milling throng Sunday night pelted St. Stephen's place where Nazis Saturday night rioted and stoned the palace of Theodore Cardinal Innitzer, 62 archbishop of Vienna, injuring him and a canon.

Boys and girls of the Hitler Youth movement marched repeatedly past St. Stephen's cathedral beating drums while evening services were being conducted. Later they sang war songs and shouted in chorus:

"Whore does Innitzer belong? Dr."

Membership Drive for P. T. A. Begins

Annual Campaign for New Members All This Week

The Hope Parent-Teacher association has set aside the week of October 10-15 as the date for its annual membership drive. A special committee headed by Mrs. Claude Nunn will contact all interested persons.

The Hope P. T. A. has four units, Brookwood, Oglesby, Paisley and the high school organizations which are operated under the P. T. A. City Council.

Some of the objections of the Parent-Teacher Association are:

1. To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.
2. To raise the standards of home life.
3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may co-operate intelligently in the training of the child.
5. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

Isolation Can Be Geographical Only

By BRUCE CATTON

America is due for a spirited business revival this fall—if the explosive Czech situation is smoothed out and a general European war does not take place. So runs the advice given to President Roosevelt by his business forecasters.

That little fact is certainly something for exponents of American isolation to take into account.

True it is that the oceans are wide and that no nation has any designs on the territory of the continental United States. It is also true that we could probably come closer to making a success of the project of closing our gates and living in our own back yard than any other great nation could.

But the inescapable fact is that no matter what we do we are bound to feel the direct and immediate effects of any trouble that may take place in Europe. Whether we remain a good share of our lost prosperity this fall will apparently depend (in large part, at least) on events in Berlin, Prague, London, and Paris. We may talk of isolation all we please, but our economy will work in one way or another.

No talk about "staying at home and minding our own business" can either change or disguise that fact. And so we are simply shutting our eyes to reality when we say that we don't care what happens in Europe. We do care; we can't help caring, because the very conditions under which we do our work and run our domestic business depend so greatly on European conditions.

This doesn't mean that we ought to mobilize our army and prepare our Navy for a quick trip across the Atlantic. A general war would mean destruction and ruin for all parties involved, and we shouldn't help ourselves very much by declaring ourselves in on it.

But it does mean that it is very much to our interest to see that the peace of Europe is preserved. It is to our interest, in a strict dollars-and-cents way, to live in a world in which the machinery exists to settle international disputes peacefully—and in which all hands are prepared to make use of that machinery. Perhaps it is now too late for us to shape our policies by that fact. The die may already have been cast.

But if this crisis is passed without an explosion, the lesson should not be lost on us.

We don't want to "get involved" in Europe's quarrels, certainly. Yet when those quarrels reach the boiling point we have to pay for them anyway; isn't it to our interest to do what we can, beforehand, to get those quarrels adjusted?

The Family Doctor

T. M. RES. U. S. PAT. OFF.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Bygones, the Health Magazine.

Most Accident at Home, on Street, and at Work Are Due to Carelessness

(This is the second of seven articles in which Dr. Fishben discusses the causes and prevention of domestic, industrial, and traffic accidents.)

The menace of the accident is constantly with us. One of the readers of this column has just written me telling about a trip that he took this summer and the troubles that he had.

First he was exposed to poison ivy. No one in the group had the slightest idea of what to do about the matter when the inflammation followed contact with the ivy plant. The pet dog, which accompanied his wife, got into a fight with a wandering mongrel. In trying to separate the dogs, the hands of my correspondent were torn so that blood was drawn. His wife sprained her ankle in stepping over a log.

Innumerable accident of a similar character can happen to anyone. These come to mind:

The celluloid comb on which a child was playing a tune broke into flames and set fire to the child's clothing. A bridge player who had bid and made a grand slam got so excited that he leaped suddenly from his chair and dislocated his shoulder. A workman knocked on the door of the boss' office at the precise moment that a man on the other side drove a nail through the panel into the knocker's fingers. A child choked on an all-day sucker when she fell while running with it in her mouth. A man ran his motor car into the side of a viaduct, and the car with its occupants dropped 22 feet to the railroad tracks below. The train which came promptly demolished the car.

It would seem almost impossible to prevent every accident yet the trail of events leading to most serious accidents indicates that somewhere along the line there lay some carelessness. Prevention is worth while from every possible point of view. However, we must not only prevent accidents. The intelligent person knows what to do when an accident occurs.

Just a little knowledge of first aid may make all the difference between permanent disability and even between life and death.

How many people are regularly injured as the result of tremendous trifles? Almost every one of us has seen the account of a person who stuck his finger with a pin, needle, or a thorn, or cut it with a piece of paper. A little later serious infection set in and death followed.

There are certain things that ought to be done in every such accident. Never use strong carbolic acid, bicloride of mercury, or any antiseptic that is too strong because the damage done by the antiseptic may be worse than the injury itself.

Don't attempt to suck out the poison by using the mouth for that purpose. The mouth may put in more germs than it takes out. It is much better to wipe off the blood with a piece of sterilized bandage, and wash the injured part clean with soap and water.

Apply either ordinary tincture of iodine, mercurochrome, metaphen, or some of the other antiseptics that have been approved, and cover the area with some of the prepared sterilized bandages that are now available in every drug store for first aid use.

The slightest signs of increased redness around the injury, and particularly lines of redness radiating away, indicate infection; a doctor should give the wound his attention at once.

Every home should have a first aid package containing sterilized bandage and cotton, mild antiseptics, adhesive plaster, and prepared bandages.

"Ol' Debbit" Danger Works Hardest When Child Plays

When you sent Tommy to school that day, mother, I know how you felt. You began really to see cars and trucks for the first time. There were two wide streets to cross and a double entry to a gas station. Could you depend on his six years of wisdom to keep him alive? Would he forget one day and not notice the bread wagon turning the corner behind him?

Then gradually your fears subsided. You were content to say each morning when you kissed him goodbye, "Look out for the cars, dear." And he'd say, "Yes." It grew to be a matter of form.

Now, although there is always danger, I think I'll say this: Probably fewer children are hurt on their way to and from school than during play afterward. They develop a certain canniness about crossings. It gets to be a habit, looking both ways and waiting for openings. When danger point are fixed in the mind, a sort of reflex caution guides all of us. The big chance of a child being taken unplace of caution, such as being late, awakes is when another fear takes the Then anxiously crowds out every other idea but to get there and do it in a hurry.

Here is the truth about children. They are always in more danger when they play than at any other time. Off guard they become almost utterly irresponsible. There is the ball that rolls out into the street. Bob turns to get at Harry that he couldn't catch a baseball with a basket, and doesn't see swift doom approaching. Ted turns his wheel out of the driveway with Chuck riding the bars. They argue about which direction to go. A close call that one, when a whine of brakes and on oath is all they have to wake them up to their brush with death.

And those terrible little wagons. They slide out at twilight right under street lights, thinking drivers can see them. What if they can? Shadows are tricky and what the driver took for a mud spot turns out to be a small figure just going over to see if Bill can come out.

The remedy is prevention. Do keep the children on the sidewalk. The street is as dangerous as a railroad.

I have kept to cars, as they are the big headline of today, at there are other things. I don't need to tell you about them. You know. Never under any circumstances should a boy or girl of any age go with a stranger. No matter how plausible the invitation. This ought to be part of every child's daily catechism. He must not go into a store with a stranger. And unless he knows the driver well, accept no lifts even in a rainstorm.

The Powers Who Latin America

Europe finds itself these days in the greatest crisis since the World War as an ambitious Hitler drives toward the east but how far Der Fuehrer may go ultimately depends a great deal on a struggle he is waging at the same time in distant Latin America.

Their fortunes inextricably tied up in the same game with Hitler, the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France, and Italy face a staggering contest today in these nations to the south, if not a real menace to world peace. Much of the real history of tomorrow is going to be fought out if not with the military, in the Hispanic countries.

So points the veteran Latin-American observer, Carlton Beals, in his new book on this field, "The Coming Struggle for Latin America" (Lippincott: $3). Mr. Beals has been studying and traveling in the 20 Spanish-speaking republics for a score of years. He feels that the foreign battle there today for rich resources and trade routes may well bring Europe's troubles to American soil.

Nazi Germany, for instance, has gained a tremendous footing in these regions, as has Italy and Japan, he re-

Yankees Again Win World Ball Title

New York First Team to Win Three Consecutive Championships

YANKEE STADIUM.—The greatest victory march in all baseball history ended in burlesque Sunday as Joe McCarthy's pitiless New York Yankees stomped the pitiful Chicago Cubs, 8-3, for the fourth straight victory that made them the first ball club to win three successive world championship contests.

Before 59,847 cash customers, whose sympathies for the beaten and outclassed were so touched that they cheered in vain for a rally from the club that only a week ago was the hottest baseball, the Yankees simply toyed with the once highly touted enemy and denied their record-breaking baseball odyssey over the rather prostrate forms of six Cub pitchers, including Bill Lee and Dizzy Dean.

The triumph, turned into a comedy of errors, hoots and whoops in the eighth just as the Cubs came within a run of tying the score, completed the sweep to the Yankee winners of 12 out of 15 world series games played, only Carl Hubbell and his New York Giants interrupting the parade to win two games in 1936 and another last year. Not since inter-league classics began in 1903 has a team ever before won three straight world's championships.

The result was more than that. It gave McCarthy complete revenge on his old Chicago Cub bosses who fired him as manager quite unceremoniously after six years of service in 1930. The grand slam was the second for the Yanks under McCarthy. In 1932, his club swept the Cubs four in a row.

Sunday's finishing Yankee riot was a ball game as long as the Yankees half of the eighth. The Yankees, cashing in on a bad throw by Bill Jurgens for an ultimate total of three runs in the second off Lee and picking up another on a home run smash by Tommy Henrich in the sixth, saw a 4-1 lead threatened in the Cub eighth. Phil Cavaretta doubled for the sixth hit of Charlie Ruffing, and Ken Oden homered in for the third run. But the hopes of the multi-tude glimmered and then fell with a sickening thud as the Cub pitching collapsed under the terrific strain.

veals. Great Britain faces the test of her empire in this game, and the United States is losing ground.

There is a danger, Beals says, that the United States has overgrown itself, will the Latin Americas. The Roosevelt good-neighbor policy faces critical tests.

Mr. Beals writes with his usual facility and customary authority. It is not too much to say that his book should stand for a long time to come as one of the best expositions of the titanic drama that is Latin America's today.—P.G.F.

The Library

A beautifully written non-fiction book now appearing on the rental shelves of the library is "Red Star Over China," by Edgar Snow. A synopsis of the story follows:

"This is a record of unique and permanent importance that covers the life of China during the past nine years, up to summer, 1938, and explains, clearly the extraordinary events and intrigues that finally resulted in the present united stand against Japan."

Edgar Snow, chief correspondent in the Far East for the London Daily Herald, sent the following letter to his publishers, along with the photographs that are reproduced in this volume.

"Except for the few pictures taken by the Reds themselves which have never been available for publication, these are the only pictures ever taken of the Chinese Red Army, of life in the Soviet districts, and of Red political and military leaders. The Kuomintang armies have been fighting with the communist armies in China ever since 1927. Millions of words have been written about these wars, but no one, Chinese or foreign, has act-

Fall of the Year

When hillsides are blue with spring blossoms, I think that's the best time of all; But, when corn fields begin to turn golden, Then I'm sure that the best time is fall.

There are few things more lovely than roses, That in summer climb over the wall; But, when maples begin to turn scarlet, Then I'm sure that the best time is fall.

I love the wood fires of mid-winter, And snow flakes always enthrall; But, when goldenrod waves in its glory, I know that the best time is fall.

At The Rialto

Rudolph Valentino, heart throb of a generation ago, will be brought back to the Rialto Thursday and Friday in his greatest picture, "Son of the Shiek". Valentino is recognized universally as one of the greatest lovers of all times. That a picture can be brought back 15 years after the star is dead and still bring thrills to the feminine heart is proof that his potent love power and electrifying charm must have been terrific.

It will no doubt be exciting for mothers to take their daughters to see the picture and proudly compare their movie idol of yesterday with the screen lovers of today; Gable, Powell, Flynn, etc. Critics say that Valentino still has a burning fascination which far exceeds the attraction of his modern rivals.

"Son of the Shiek," is the original silent film, untouched except for musical accompaniment, so that Valentino lovers can see their favorite again just as he was 15 years ago when he made famous "The Four Horsemen" and "The Shiek". Vilma Bankley is also in the picture.

SAENGER

What happens when four devoted sisters fall in love with the same man? "Four Daughters," the Warner Bros. picture based on a Fannie Hurst story, which opens at the Saenger Theater today, takes that as its theme and develops it into a richly human story.

The four daughters of an elderly musician all give their hearts unthinkingly to a captivating young man who comes to live at their home, and he in turn is enraptured by the youngest of them. And it is this girl, scarcely more than a child, who bravely sacrifices her own happiness because of a mistaken notion that by so doing she will insure the happiness of her oldest sister. More by chance than by design, the tangle into which the lives of the four girls is thrown is eventually unraveled so that each achieves the destiny that makes her happiest.

"The Four Daughters" is of unusual interest in itself. In the first place, three of the four sisters are played by three girls who are sisters in actuality, Priscilla, Rosemary, and Lola Lane—the fourth sister being enacted by Gale Page.

More than 28,000 Tennessee farmers limed more than 250,000 acres of land in 1937 in an effort to combat soil acidity.

All-in-One Line Designed To Make Large Women Slim

By CAROL DAY

The front and back panels of the skirt are cut in one with the fitted middle section. This kind of line appears in many costly new models, and is ideally adapted to make large figures look more slender.

You'll find it very easy to make, incidentally, if you follow the detailed sew chart included in your pattern. This design, Pattern 8318, has the simplicity and long lines that large women like, with sleeves high at the shoulder and fitted to the arm below.

A touch of lace at the V-neck and the pointed closing are all the detailing it needs. This is an unusually good design for velvet, to be worn to bridge parties, teas and informal dinners. It will be charming, too, in satin, dull crepe or wool broadcloth.

Pattern 8318 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. With long sleeves, size 38 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39 inch material; with short, 4 1/2 yards; 1/2 yard of lace edging for yokes.

The new Fall and Winter Pattern Book, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Lie the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Fall and Winter Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone—15 cents.

For a Pattern of this attractive model send 15c in coin, your name, address, style number and size to Hope Star Today's Pattern Bureau, 211 W. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Ill.

"Cotton Ed" Is Still "Hoppin' Mad," Suh

Senator Ellison DuRant Smith of South Carolina was still "hoppin' mad" when this picture was taken at Washington shortly after his request for a conference between President Roosevelt and a group of southern senators was refused. Although the White House insisted "Cotton Ed," who recently was renominated despite vigorous Roosevelt opposition, was just too late in asking an appointment, Senator Smith saw a direct snub, complained angrily. Senator Smith is spokesman for senators and farm representatives seeking an increase in the cotton loan rate from 8.3 cents a pound to more than 11 cents.

ROME, Italy.—(AP)—Italy looked abroad Sunday for reciprocal acts of conciliation following announcement of a "substantial" withdrawal of Italian troops from insurgent Spain. Informal Fascists said the decision to send home the Blackshirt legionnaires who had served more than 18 months continuously with General Franco was only a tentative gesture.

Premier Mussolini's next move, they said, would depend upon whether the Barcelona government fulfilled its promise to withdraw all foreign volunteers from its forces (announced September 21 in Geneva).

The Spanish government's undertaking has been announced in Italy but the people were told that the initiative in withdrawing foreign troops was taken by the insurgents.

It was said Mussolini would not permit Franco to suffer military reverses as a consequence of the departure of the Italian soldiers, unofficially estimated at 10,000. Estimates have placed the number of Italians in Spain as high as 80,000.

Failure of the Spanish government to discharge its foreign fighters, it was said, might bring Italian forces back into Spain in sufficient numbers to bring about a speedy insurgent victory.

U. S. Is to Produce Arkansas Movie

Will Lessen State's Expense for World Fair Exhibit Film

LITTLE ROCK—Through the cooperation of the U. S. Department of the Interior, and the Arkansas State Planning Board, the motion picture travelogue to be shown in the Arkansas display at the New York World's Fair will be produced by the governmental department that presented "The River" and "The Plow That Broke the Plains."

By this arrangement the travelogue is taken from the commercial field and the cost to the Arkansas Centennial Commission is thereby materially lessened. It is possible that the commission will contract with other sources for color production on exterior scenes, as the governmental agency is not equipped for film in the natural colors.

Randall M. White, acting director will represent the Department of Interior at a conference with Governor Carl E. Bailey and the executive committee of the Centennial Commission next Thursday at which time the details for the travelogue will be worked out. Mr. White leaves Washington Monday to arrive in Little Rock a day ahead of the scheduled meeting in order to consider the script for the travelogue and visit some of the scenes that are to be reproduced in the early stages.

This will be the first time the United States has participated in a state motion picture. This is made possible through the State Planning Board being both a State and a National agency. The active connecting link in the picture production will be the National Park Service, which is permitted to accept contributions from any source with which to carry out its program. It is thus possible for the Centennial Commission, through the Park Service, to defray the cost of making the travelogue, which under this arrangement will be about one third of the cost of a commercial production. It is also planned for the government to show the travelogue all over the United States at the conclusion of the World's Fair, thereby presenting it to many millions more than the 10,000,000 expected to see it at New York.

A crew of fifteen technicians, script writers and photographers are expected to operate in Arkansas for several months in filming the travelogue.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

...AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax. Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Don't let tension tie your nerves in a knot. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—I let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves."

DID YOU KNOW?

—that the grower of tobacco also cures it—in many cases, in barns equipped to apply heat without smoke? That the planter works day and night until the curing process is completed? Selection of Camel's tobaccos requires the services of men familiar with every phase of growing, curing, and aging choice tobacco. It is well known in the tobacco trade that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Tasteful and Domestic.

STORIES IN STAMPS

How "Rough and Ready" Taylor Became President

THE history of the roaring 1800s in America is the story of Indian fighters and backwoods politicians who became presidents. Nothing quite made a man for public life like a smashing victory over the redskins or a boyhood in a log cabin. So hardy Zachary Taylor was in perfect tradition. His father was one of the first settlers of Louisville, Ky., he had only an elementary education himself. At 26 Zachary was promoted to a captaincy in the army and in 1812, with 60 men, two-thirds of whom were down with fever, he gallantly defended Fort Harrison on the Wabash against Tecumseh and a large force of Indians. Thereafter he was to know no peace.

Promoted to the rank of major for his leadership, he found himself in the next few years fighting the Indian allies of Great Britain, then as a colonel in the Black Hawk war, next winning a decisive victory over the Seminoles in Florida, and finally battling in Texas in 1846. Defending the American cause in the territory, he won battles at Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma. His two great victories came at Monterey and at Buena Vista. Soon after, in 1848, he became President.

But "Old Rough and Ready" died of bilious colic 16 months after his inauguration. He is shown here on a new stamp of the U. S. regular series, enlarged. (Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Dr. T. J. Mendenhall of Rosston, Is Dead

PRESCOTT Ark.—Dr. Thomas J. Mendenhall, 73, of Rosston, died in a Little Rock hospital Saturday, a week after the death of his daughter, Mrs. Ruby Mendenhall Smith, who was buried here last week.

Dr. Mendenhall had practiced medicine at Rosston more than 50 years. He is survived by a son, Logan Mendenhall, and a daughter, Mrs. A. J. Ward, both of Rosston, and three brothers, Ed of McNeill, Charles M. of Chidester, and Will Mendenhall of Idabel, Okla.
